BEER CONTROL FOR MICHIGAN STRIKES SNAG

DEMOCRATS SCORE BILL AS BAR TO CHEAP BREW

BY SAM B. McCOOL
(Ass'd Press Staff Writer)

Lansing, April 4 (AP)—The administration beer bill made its way to the legislative hopper today to meet an immediate baptism of fire.

Introduced by Chairman Anthony J. Wilkowski, of the prohibition committee, with a ringing indorsement from Governor Comstock, the measure was subjected to a barrage of criticism in committee.

Indications were the bill will never emerge from committee in its present form. Administration leaders feared the controversy over its provisions may delay passage beyond April 16, the date Governor Comstock hopes beer will be legalized in Michigan.

Prepared By Commission

Earlier in the day Governor Comstock had characterized the bill as "the best measure yet presented in any state for the handling of this complex problem." Democrats and Republicans, however, joined in attacking its provisions as the prohibition committee went over the measure for the first time.

Prepared by the governor's advisory liquor control commission, the bill would permit the consumption of 3.2 per cent beer and wine in restaurants, hotels, dining cars, passenger boats, clubs, and beer gardens. Free lunches would be prohibited. To make the beverage share in the cost of government a state tax of $1.25 a barrel of 31 gallons would be levied. Manufacturers, distributors, and retailers would be licensed, under varying fees. All revenues, aside from the retail fees, would go into the general fund of the state.

Doyle Joins Attack

A state liquid control commission of 17 members appointed by the governor would admister the act, clothed with broad powers over manufacture, wholesalers and retailers.

Cries that the measure was framed without expert advice from the brewing industry, and that it would rob the people of a cheap beverage were made in committee.

"This bill was drawn not to provide a cheap beverage for the people who have demanded it," Senator Francis A. Kulp, Democrat, Battle Creek, said, "but to impose a new tax on them."

From Senator William F. Doyle, Republican, Menominee, came an attack on what he termed the "irrevokable powers of the commission. The bill would permit no appeal beyond its decisions. It would make Capone look like a piker."

Fees Too Heavy

Senator Adolph F. Heidkamp, Republican, Lake Linden a former brewer in his own right, declared the bill was framed without con-

Widow Of Custer Dies, 91 Years Old

New York, April 4 (AP)—Mrs. Elizabeth Custer, widow of General George A. Custer, famous Indian fighter, died today at her home after a brief illness. She was 91 years old.

Her husband was killed with 207 of his men in the massacre by Indians near Little Big Horn river in Montana nearly 57 years ago.

His widow has been living in New York for many years. A niece, Mrs. Mae Custer Elmer, who resides in Brooklyn, is her only near surviving relative.

NEW WARSHIPS ARE PROPOSED

Public Works Program Has 230 Millions to Build Ships

Washington, April 4 (AP)—President Roosevelt's huge public works bill was outlined today by Chairman Vinson of the house naval committee as including provisions for the construction of 30 new warships costing $230,000,000.

That was the forecast he made today after talking with the president. Vinson said the only question in his mind was "when the bill will be sent to congress rather than whether it will include this construction."

The program which he discussed with the president, he told the newspapermen, would "still leave us way under Japan, Great Britain, France and Italy in actual combatant ships except battleships."

It contemplates initial work on 20 destroyers and four submarines within 90 days after the bill passes, and the beginning of construction on two airplane carriers of 13,500 tons each and four 10,000-ton 6-inch gun cruisers within six months.

Estimates by the navy, Vinson said, are that 260,000 men would be given employment directly and indirectly through this program.

"To be conservative," he added, "my guess would be nearer 150,000—but it's just a guess for anybody. The navy and I might both be wrong."

Vinson said that out of every dollar spent on a naval vessel, 85 cents goes for labor—45 cents to workers in the yards and 40 cents to employes in outside plants.

Mayor Of Detroit Urges Moratorium

Washington, D. C., April 4 (AP)—Mayor Frank Murphy of Detroit tonight returned to Detroit after having presented arguments for a two-year moratorium on municipal indebtedness both to President Franklin D. Roosevelt and the house judiciary committee.

During the morning the mayor made a plea in behalf of the McLeod bill which would permit muncipalities to petition in federal courts for such a moratorium on their obligations, and this afternoon he was questioned at some length by members of the committee when he returned from the White House.

Soviets Release British On Bond

Moscow, April 4 (AP)—Three of the British engineers who are facing trial on sabotage charges were released in bail tonight.

W. H. Thornton was freed in bail of 25,000 rubles, and security for John Cushny and a fitter named Gregory was fixed at 15,000 rubles each. (The nominal value of the ruble is 51½ cents.) The Soviet authorities flatly refused bail to W. H. MacDonald, now the only one of the six British representatives of the Metropolitan-Vickers Electrical Equipment company still incarcerated.

Lucas, Kansas City, Heads Detroit Bank

Detroit, April 4 (AP)—Walter S. McLucas, chairman of the board of the Commerce Trust Co., Kansas City, was named today by directors of the National Bank of Detroit to head the new Detroit institution as president.

Announcement of McLucas' selection was made by James Inglis, chairman of the board of directors here. It was also announced that formal acceptance of the post by McLucas has been received and that he has resigned his Kansas City position.

WELFARE WORK BILL REVAMPED

Road Commissioners Say Governor's Plan Is Detrimental

Lansing, April 4 (AP)—Governor Comstock tonight was considering amendments to the administration emergency welfare bill to provide that diverted highway revenues be used for work relief rather than direct aid.

The amendment was urged upon the governor to day by a committee of nine representing road commissioners of 55 counties of the state. The delegation claimed the bill in its present form will seriously interfere with a widespread program of work relief and that more than 50,000 men would be thrown out of work.

The administration bill, which was submitted in the senate last week in compliance with the ultimatum from the Reconstruction Finance corporation, that direct state aid be forthcoming, would divert weight tax revenues for welfare purposes. County welfare needs would gain preference in the diversion after covert highway and county road bonds were met.

Governor Comstock also was agreeable to an amendment to limit the welfare diversion to one year. He admitted the measure was prepared as "a gesture to meet the demands of the R. F. C."

"Scottsboro Case" Witness Attacked

Decatur, Ala., April 4 (AP)—Credibility of the state's principal witness tonight was at issue as counsel for Heywood Patterson, first of nine negroes in the "Scottsboro case" charged with attacking two white girls, took up the fight to save him from the electric chair.

The state rested after the luncheon recess, calling only seven witnesses, among them Mrs. Victoria Price, alleged victim of the attack, and six other persons to corroborate details of her testimony given yesterday.

SEVEN WOUNDED IN BANK HOLDUP

Nebraska Raid in Style of Jesse James; $27,643 Taken

Fairbury, Neb., April 4 (AP)—A modernized version of a typical Jesse James raid was enacted today by machine-gun bandits who looted the First National bank here of $27,643 and engaged in a furious battle with officers that left seven wounded.

Shattered windows of business establishments and shot-perforated buildings attested to the exchange of shots between the desperadoes and police.

The bandit gang of six sped out of town in a large sedan bearing Iowa license plates, leaving only a meagre clew behind them in the form of a brief case containing an automatic pistol and a set of Kansas license plates.

A deputy sheriff, five citizens and one of the robbers were wounded. Keith Sexton, bookkeeper in the bank, Peter Johnson, Des Moines, Ia., a traveling salesman, E. L. Simpkins and Deputy Sheriff W. S. Davidson were struck by bullets from the bandits' sub-machine gun.

Two bank employes were slugged when they were tardy in obeying the desperadoes' command to "stretch out on the

DELTA COUNTY IS DEMOCRATIC

Best Republican Showing Made by Voters in Nahma Township

Although several townships in Delta county recorded majorities for Grover C. Dillman, candidate for re-election as highway commissioner, Nahma township was the only precinct in the election returns Monday in which the Republican preference was extended to all members of the state ticket by a good margin.

On the wet and dry question, Delta county was "wet" in every precinct, only 1,311 dry votes being recorded in the complete total against 8,542 wet.

The complete returns for the county are as follows:

Clark 2907, McDonald 2879, Bushnell 6225, Sharpe 6159.
Johnson 2771, Clements 2826, Hemains 6107, Cook 6154.
Pierce 3130, Voelker 6067.
Jeffers 2854, Wilson 6137.
Rogers 2741, McPherson 2840, Halstead 6101, Downing 6132.
Dillman 3954, VanWagoner 5742.
Wet 8542, Dry 1311.

Senate To Approve Shorter Work Week

Washington, April 4 (AP)—After debate had developed sentiment that the measure was too drastic, Democratic leaders tonight predicted the senate would pass in modified form tomorrow the Black bill to apply a shorter work week in industry.

USE "WHITE" PINE

San Francisco, April 4 (AP)—Annulling orders of the federal trade commission, the United States circuit court of appeals ruled today lumber manufacturers could use the word "white" in conjunction with the manufacture of lumber "from that species of pine known botanically as pinus ponderosa" (the so called yellow pine).

Wisconsin Stays Wet, One Dry in Michigan

Milwaukee, Wis., April 4 (AP)—Sentiment for the repeal of the eighteenth amendment—turning thumbs down on prohibition by a margin of about 4 to 1—was sweeping Wisconsin tonight as returns in today's referendum were tabulated.

In 645 of the state's 2,899 precincts repeal pledged delegates were in front by a vote of 129,421 to 31,108.

Town and country alike turned in thumping wet majorities. First returns were from rural districts where drys entertained some hope of gaining support. But even they favored repeal by a two-to-one majority.

Then the cities of the of the eastern portion of the state, where polls closed late, began piling up the wet lead.

Milwaukee, where the breweries are humming to produce the beer which will become legal Friday, did the expected by going wet, on the basis of early returns to the tune of more than 10 to 1.

In 37 precincts in Milwaukee the vote was: for repeal, 10,937; against, 966.

In Racine, Sheboygan and Kenosha it was the same story.

Detroit, April 4 (AP)—Barring a complete reversal of the trend shown in incomplete returns from six districts, there will be a lone dissenter when the 100 delegates to Michigan's constitutional convention assemble next Monday to ratify the amendment repealing national prohibition.

There were enough missing precincts in the Allegan, Ingham second, Montcalm, Newaygo, Osceola

PARTY TICKET HAS MAJORITY OVER 100,000

DEMOCRATS MAKE "CLEAN SWEEP" IN MICHIGAN

Detroit, April 4 (AP)—Mounting returns from Tuesday's election tonight had established the Democratic party of Michigan in the most imposing position in its history.

The party ticket swept the boards, giving its candidates majorities of 100,000 and more in a record-breaking off-year vote. Nine Democratic state officers will replace as many Republicans. As a result of two elections, in which the usually minority party assumed unprecedented strength, the state cabinet was placed entirely in the hands of the Democrats, with the exception of Frank D. Fitzgerald, secretary of state and lone Republican to survive. In addition the Democrats gained a working majority in the legislature, placed two favored sons on the heretofore purely Republican supreme bench and invaded other state bodies.

Ahead of Slate

In yesterday's balloting the Democrats decisively made good their threat to "finish what they started in November." Grover C. Dillman, highway commissioner, was badly beaten by Murray D. Van Wagoner, Democrat, Pontiac, even though he ran far ahead of some of his Republican colleagues. Justices George M. Clark and John S. McDonald, of the supreme court, will be replaced next January 1 by George E. Bushnell, of Highland Park, and Edward M. Sharpe, of Bay City. Dr. Paul F. Voelker, of Battle Creek, defeated Webster H. Pearce, superintendent of public instruction.

The Democrats placed five candidates on constitutional boards. Charles T. Hemans, of Detroit, and Franklin M. Cook, of Hillsdale, won memberships on the board of regents of the university, defeating Donald E. Johnson, of Flint, and William L. Clements, of Bay City. Republicans. M. B. McPherson, veteran Republican member of the state board of argiculture, and his running mate, A. J. Rogers, of Beulah, were snowed under by Benjamin H. Halstead, of Petoskey, and Charles E. Downing, of Ypsilanti, Democrats. Fred A. Jeffers, of Painesdale, failed of re-election to the state board of education, being beaten by Edna C. Wilson, Democrat, of Saginaw.

Leaders Surprised

The decisiveness of the vote surprised Republicans and Democrats alike. W. Alfred Debo, chairman of the Democratic central committee, had predicted a majority for his ticket of 50,000 and believed the Democratic lead would be gained largely in Detroit and other industrial territory. Heads of the Republican state organization claimed the upheavel of last fall had subsided and prophesied outstate Michigan would return to "normal Republicanism." Instead the Republican slate was unable to run even with the Democrats out-

PENINSULA MAY GET 3,000 JOBS

National Forest Camps Outlined at Munising By Supervisor

Marquette, Mich., April 4 (AP)—Under the national forestry work relief program, details of which are being worked out in Washington, it is expected that approximately 3,000 men will be employed in the three national forests in the upper peninsula, it was stated here by R. B. McKennan, district supervisor for the U. S. forest service, with headquarters in Munising.

Mr. McKennan has tentatively estimated, he said, that 1,000 men can be employed to good advantage in each of the three U. P. forests—Ottawa, the Hiawatha and the Marquette.

The tentative plan of procedure in the upper peninsula, which has been submitted to E. W. Tinker, regional forester in Milwaukee, and which is subject to his endorsement and final approval in Washington, calls for the establishment of 15 relief camps, five in each of the three national forests. The complement of 1,000 men, proposed for each forest area, would be divided about equally between the five camps in that area, it is expected.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY TAKES 75 LIVES

World's Largest Dirigible Falls Into Atlantic in Thunderstorm; Rescuers Also Lost

New York, April 4 (AP)—In a blinding electrical storm, the Akron, mightiest dirigible ever to cruise the skies, was plummeted into the turbulent Atlantic today about 20 miles off the Jersey shore, and by dusk tonight hope had waned for 71 missing members of the crew.

Of the 76 men aboard the "mistress of the skies" as she crashed, four were rescued, but one of them died before he was brought ashore.

A day of searching by water and by air brought the discovery of only one body of the ill-fated crew floating on the ocean.

Fourteen hours after this major disaster, the J-3, non-rigid navy airship, crashed into the sea 1,000 yards off the Jersey coast with a loss of two lives, as she was engaging in the search for Akron victims.

Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of the navy bureau of aeronautics, was among those lost on the Akron. Aroused from sleep by the storm, he had been in the control room shortly before the accident.

The three Akron survivors are:

Lieut. Com. H. V. Wiley of Lakewood, N. J., executive officer and second in command, who was at the controls.

Moody E. Erwin of Memphis, Tenn., metalsmith.

Richard E. Deal of Lakehurst, N. J., boatswain's mate.

The rescued man who later died was Robert W. Copeland, of Lakehurst, N. J., chief radio operator.

Twelve hours after the crash, the body of Lieut. Com. Harold E. MacLellan, of Westerly, R. I., was picked up by a coast guard cutter near the scene of the disaster.

Lieut. Com. David E. Cummins of Prescott, Ark., commander of the J-3, who was taken from the water unconscious after the blimp accident, died a short time later.

The body of Pasquale Bettio, the chief machinist's mate on the J-3, was recovered several hours later.

The other five of the J-3 crew were rescued.

BY R. M. HIPPELHEUSER
(Ass'd Press Staff Writer)

New York, April 4 (AP)—"Stand by for a crash!"

Thus did Lieut. Com. H. V. Wiley cry out to shipmates on the Akron, as the giant dirigible plunged toward the sea.

In a faded bathrobe, with a pair of borrowed pajamas about his tall, bulky figure, the second in command of the giant navy dirigible stood on the steps of the U. S. naval hospital in Brooklyn late today and recounted the night of storm and terror that apparently brought death to 73 of his shipmates.

In what he termed "my own interview," the lieutenant commander empatically said that in his opinion, the Akron was not struck by lightning, and added that there was no fire aboard the craft. There was a possibility, he said, that the ship was struck by lightning without his knowledge "as there was plenty of lightning all around us."

On Test Flight

The officer was calm as he talked. The lobby of the hospital was filled with patients and attendants as he related his views of the tragedy:

"We left Lakehurst at about 7.30 p. m. last night on a regularly scheduled flight," he related. "One object of the flight was to calibrate radio direction finding stations in New England.

"About 8.35 o'clock, when 20 miles south of Philadelphia lightning was seen ahead, and in a few minutes we had reports of a thunderstorm over Washington.

"We headed east and northeast toward the ocean, flying at about

Filipino "Ritual" Murder Suspected

Merced, Calif., April 4 (AP)—California officials today investigated the possibility of a second "ritual" murder by a Filipino secret society.

Indictment last night of ten men and women at Martinez, on charges of burying alive Mrs. Celine Novarro, 26, because of alleged unfaithfullness to her husband, resulted in an investigation of the disappearance of another woman.

Catalina Rondez, 18, American wife of Fructoso Rondez, Filipino ranch worker, disappeared from her home in Cortez early in May, 1932. Merced county officials are studying the case.

President's Jobless Measure Is Halted

Washington, April 4 (AP)—President Roosevelt's emergency legislative program jolted over a rough and bumpy road in congress today as the senate debated the Black five-day week bill and the house side-tracked the administration's $500,000,000 unemployment relief measure.

The chief executive's far-reaching plan for refinancing the nation's gigantic farm indebtedness, proposed in a special message yesterday, was advanced, however, in committees at both ends of the capitol.

Japanese Delegate Lunches With Fords

Detroit, April 4 (AP)—Describing himself as an industrialist, and not a diplomatic representative for the Japanese government, Yosuke Matsuoka lunched today with Henry and Edsel Ford at the Ford Motor Co. plant, disclaiming any official significance for his visit here.

"When I go back to my country and say that I saw Henry Ford," the Japanese statesman declared, "that will 'be something.' He is known, admired and even worshipped in Japan, and many little boys want to become Henry Fords."

Jewish Boycotts Won't Be Resumed

AT GREAT LAKES

Great Lakes, Ill., April 4 (AP)—Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, missing in the Akron crash, won acclaim as wartime commander of the Great Lakes naval traning station.

He built the station up from a minor peacetime establishment to one of the greatest of its kind, encompassing 950 buildings on 1200 acres of land.

During the 18 months of American participation in the World war, Admiral Moffett put some 250,000 sailors into training, nearly 40 per cent of the navy's wartime personnel.

BEER CONTROL FOR MICHIGAN STRIKES SNAG

sulting those who were expert in handling the beverage. He attacked provisions of the measure which he said would prevent the brewers from selling direct to the retail trade. He and other members of the committee charged the bill levied excessive fees and taxes and that it would not permit small breweries to operate. The measure establishes a minimum fee of $1,500 for breweries.

Another provision limiting the number of breweries to 48 brought a committee charge that it would interfere with a possibly important construction program of welfare relief.

Governor Comstock expressed the belief that the legislature will expedite passage of the bill, particularly in view of the wet sentiment in Monday's election. His hopes, however, were somewhat set back by the committee's criticism. The committee will meet again tomorrow in an apparent move to redraft the measure.

$250 for Hotels

The governor claimed the bill would not only take care of the manufacture and sale of legalized beer but would also "handle the situation when the Eighteenth Amendment is repealed." He said the advisory committee will later make any needed changes should the prohibition repeal amendment be ratified by the states.

In addition a state tax of $1.25 a barrel, a manufacturers' license fee of five cents a barrel with a $1,500 minimum would be charged. The maximum levy against breweries would be $5,000. The fee for manufacturing wine would be $100. Railroads would be required to $50 a year for each car on which beer or wine was served. Boats serving the beverage would pay $1 per passenger capacity with a minimum of $50 and a maximum of $500.

The license for hotels would be $500 in cities over $100,000 population and $250 elsewhere. Gardens would pay an annual feet of $200, restaurants $150, clubs $200, and warehouses $25. Cities and counties would share in the proceeds from retailers' licenses. Wholesalers would pay $100 annually.

CUTS STATE EXPENSE

Lansing, Mich., April 4 (AP)—Appropriation bills proposing a general one-third reduction from the curent outlay for the operation of state institutions were submitted to the house tonight by Chairman M. Clyde Stout of the ways and means committee.

The bills propose a total appropriation of $1,111,926 annually for all state normal colleges. Of this sum Michigan Normal would receive $418,196; Central State Teachers $161,684; Western State Normal $403,196, and Northern State Teachers $128,850 annually. The president's salary at each institution would be reduced to $4,000 a year.

Other institutional appropriations under the Stout bills would be: State Vocational school $226,340; Girls' Training school $139,275; Michigan Soldiers' Home $169,500; Michigan Tuberculosis sanitorium $236,000; State School for the Deaf $145,775; State School for the Blind $88,000; Employment Institute for the Blind $49,895, and state public schools $479,200.

Rep. Gust T. Hartman (Rep), Houghton, offered a bill reducing the pay of probate judges and probate registers approximately one third from the present scale. A measure prohibiting state officers from hiring relatives to be placed on the state payroll was submitted by Rep. Leslie T. Barber, Edmore.

The house passed and sent to the senate the Bellows bill, permitting payment of 1932 taxes until July 1 without penalty or interest. The vote was 74 to 9 in its favor. A bill reducing the rate charged by pawn brokers from three to one per cent a month also was sent to the senate.

and Wexford districts conceivable to swing the results but the wet delegates were leading by comfortable margins in all.

It seemed a certainty tonight that Barry county alone had elected a dry delegate in yesterday's election—the first effective referendum ever to be held on repeal of an amendment to the federal constitution and the first decisive expression of popular sentiment on the eighteenth amendment.

Fears expressed by some wet leaders that the election of delegates by legislative districts would be a handicap to their cause proved groundless. The convention proportionately will be even "wetter" than the popular majority. The total vote, with 2,926 precincts reported, was: wet, 753,033 dry, 242,790.

More than a million votes were cast, by far the largest turnout in any Michigan biennial spring election.

The margin of victory exceeded even the most optimistic hopes of the wet forces, which were the same organizations that combined in the campaign of last fall that resulted in elimination of the Michigan bone dry law by a margin of more than 500,000 votes. The tabulation showed that virtually every populous center in the state voted heavily in favor of repeal.

It was reported that no one was injured. First information about the trouble did not make clear which of the planes was involved.

Akron Was Twice Size Of Zeppelin, 10,580 Mile Range

Akron, O., April 4 (AP)—The U. S. S. Akron was the United States' first home-built dirigible of the Zeppelin type and with its sister ship, the U. S. S. Macon—now waiting its maiden flight—shared the distinction of being the largest in the world.

The Akron was 785 feet long with a maximum diameter of 132.9 feet and held 6,500,000 cubic feet of non-inflammable helium gas—making it nearly twice the size of the Graf Zeppelin. Its length was equal to the height of a 50-story skyscraper.

Powered by eight Maybach engines capable of developing 4,480 horsepower, it had a maximum speed of 84 miles an hour. Its cruising range was 10,580 miles—enough to make a jaunt to the North Pole just a week-end trip.

Its rings forming the hulk, and the keel, were made of duraluminum. There were 11 rings, large enough to encircle a 10-story building.

The Akron was able to carry five fighting planes in a lower compartment. There were two control cabins, one forward and one aft, the latter designed for emergency use. The ship carried an electric power plant and a system of 18 telephones.

state and was swamped in Wayne and other large counties such as Oakland, Bay, Saginaw and Musgekon. The outstate counties which rallied most staunchly to the Republican candidates included Kent, Ingham, Clare, Emmet, Ottawa, Washtenaw, but their support fell far short of what was needed.

Effective July 1

The changes in the state's official personnel become effective July 1 and January 1. Van Wagoner will succeed Dillman in the $7,500 a year highway post July 1, and at that time Dr. Voelker will take over the office of superintendent of public instruction and Mrs. Wilson will become a member of the board of education. The new supreme court justices, regents and members of the board of agriculture will not be sworn in until the beginning of the new year. Supreme court justices have an eight-year term. The highway commissioner was elected for four years.

Dr. Voelker, who is president of the Battle Creek college and former president of Olivet college, pledged himself during the campaign to work for the elimination of duplication in the University and Michigan State college and to endeavor to promote economy in education. He plans to appoint a commission to study educational costs and needs.

Van Wagoner, in his campaign against Dillman, promised to "cut the costs of maintaining the highways and otherwise save the taxpayer's money."

An indicated 500,000 votes or more was cast in the election, the largest ever recorded for a spring political contest. The presence of the prohibition repeal issue was credited with attracting thousands of persons to the polls, who otherwise might not have voted.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY TAKES 75 LIVES ON AKRON, BLIMP

1,600 feet. The ground was obscured by fog, but we knew our position quite accurately, and occasionally we would sight lights indicating a town which checked our course.

"The ship was in good flying condition, although slighty heavy. The lightning to the south became quite extensive and also appeared in the west.

Dropped Ballast

"I don't think the ship was struck by lightning as there was no indication of this at any time, although there was plenty of lightning around us.

"We continued east for about an hour and then reversed the course. When we reached land again we saw lights and identified the shore line. This was about midnight. The course was changed to southeast. About half an hour later the ship began to descend rapidly from 1,600 feet. I dropped all the ballast forward. The fall was stopped at about 800 feet. We rose rapidly and leveled off again at 1,500 feet.

"While we were falling, the engines were pushed to full speed. After we gained our altitude again they were changed to standard speed. Three minutes later the air became turbulent all around us and the ship tossed violently.

"I knew we were near the center of the storm, because air in the center is most turbulent. I called all hands to the landing stations so as to have all of them available and not in their bunks.

Rudder Carried Away

"The ship took a sharp lurch and the rudder control wires of the upper rudder were carried away. I unclutched the upper rudder and tried to steer with the lower rudder.

"I was on the right side of the control car and supervising the rudder. Commander McCord was on the left side of the car and supervising the elevator wheel. The elevator man reported the ship was falling rapidly.

"I heard a report of 800 feet. By this time the nose inclined upward about 20 degrees, but the ship was falling quite rapidly. In the fog nothing outside could be seen.

"I asked for altitude and the answer was 300 feet. I ordered all hands to stand by for a crash. That order was rung up to the engine car and almost immediately we hit the water.

"We had, as I remember, a list to starboard, to my side of the control cad. Water rushed in the windows on my side, carried me out the windows on the other side of the control car.

"I tried to swim as rapidly as I could to get from under the ship, and finally came to the surface. I saw the ship drifting away as the lightning flashed. The bow was up in the air and whole structure a general wreck.

Swam Toward Ship

"I saw two lights on what I thought was the stern. On one side I saw the lights of a ship.

"I also thought I could see the glare of Barnegat lighship. I swam toward the ship and after about 10 minutes I bumped into a board about three feet square, which I clung to the rest of the way.

"I saw several men in the water, but none very close. I did not think I could help any of them.

"I did not see any men in the water after I found the board. When I got within 100 yards of the ship the wind changed, hitting me in the face instead of behind me.

"The captain put the ship broadside. It floated toward me. I think he must have heard cries of men in the water.

"I made it easily to the ship and they threw me a life ring and hauled me aboard. They had boats out and picked up three other men. I did not see the boats until I was on board the ship.

"As soon as I recovered strength in about an hour, I sent a message to the navy department giving the names of the rescued. The German captain is an excellent seaman and did everything he could to save life."

No Confusion

"There was no noise or confusion of any kind," Wiley said in telling of the moments just before the crash. "Orders were given in a low voice and carried out efficiently. There was no conversation of any kind after I gave the order to stand by for a crash."

Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, who motored up from Washington yesterday to make the trip with the Akron, was asleep until midnight, Wiley said.

"The admiral came into the control rooms shortly after midnight," the officer said. "I remembered seeing him in there quite frequently. Then, in the few minutes before the impact, I didn't remember seeing him."

Wiley, asked if he saw Commander McCord after the crash, said: "I was washed out his window. He may have gone out ahead of me."

Hospital authorities said the officer and two men would remain at the hospital overnight, at least.

"In a situation of this kind," said Captain R. E. Stoops, executive officer of the hospital, "it would be easy for anyone who spent the night in exposure to catch pneumonia. And we are not taking any chances."

CAUGHT IN WRECKAGE

Washington, April 4 (AP)—The possibility that most of the 71 missing men aboard the Akron were caught in wreckage which sank was advanced tonight by navy department officials as a reason why only five of the crew were accounted for after a day of searching by a fleet of vessels and airplanes.

Officials said they considered that the search today had covered virtually all stretches of water into which floating bits of wreckages and bodies could have been carried.

The Akron fell in the northerly part of this sector, and the body of Lieutenant Commander Harold E. MacClelland was found at midday near the scene of the crash. Estimating the drift of the tide southward at about 2 miles an hour, officials said they did not believe any wreckage could have drifted beyond the southern waters searched.

Although the Akron carried life preservers for all on board, officials said, and was further equipped with rubber boats, there was little chance for them to be used.

While it was expected that bodies of some of the drowned men might come to the surface in from 48 to 72 hours, it was feared those entangled in wreckage might be lost permanently.

COULDN'T BUCK WIND

Beach Haven, N. J., April 4. (AP)—Tragedy piled on tragedy today as the non-rigid airship J-3 in attempting to land after searching for survivors of the Akron disaster was borne a half mile to sea and crashed into the ocean. Two of its crew of seven were lost.

Five of the crew were rescued by a New York City police plane, and another, Lieut. Commander David E. Cummins, in charge of the blimp, by a coast guard plane. Cummins was flown to Atlantic City where after unsuccessful attempts were made to resuscitate him, he was pronounced dead "by drowning."

The body of the seventh, Chief Machinist Mate Pasquale Bettio, of Ridgeway, N. J., was recovered several hours later by a coast guard boat. It was brought here and then taken to the air station at Lakehurst.

The five rescued men are Lieut. L. M. Thornton, Lieut. William A. Cockell, H. E. Manley, chief radio man; W. H. Meyers, aviation mechanic, second class, and A. S. Sprague, aviation mechanic, first class.

Lieut. William A. Cockell, one of the five survivors, said the blimp lurched over when he pulled a rip in the helium bag to release the bag for a quick landing on the beach, and was carried out over the water and crashed.

The decision to attempt a landing, he said, was made because of a 45 mile wind which they did not want to buck to the naval air station at Lakehurst.

PLAN TRIAL FLIGHTS

Washington, April 4. (AP)—Indications came from naval chiefs today that the huge U. S. S. Macon, twin of the tragedy-ended Akron, would start as scheduled on trial flights now set for around April 10.

At the office of Lieut. Commander Garland Fulton, director of the airship construction program, strong intimation was given that the only obstacles now seen to prevent these trials as scheduled would be delay in installation of final equipment or the calling of part of its crew in the Akron inquiry.

IN SHENANDOAH WRECK

Lakehurst, N. J., April 4. (AP)—Richard E. Deal, one of the three survivors of the Akron disaster, emerged alive from the wreck of the Shenandoah as well, and married the widow of one of his shipmates who was killed in that tragedy, Ralph Joffre.

They called him "Lucky" Deal at the base here on the strength of his escape from the Shenandoah in September, 1925. Four other members of the Akron's crew also were survivors of the Shenandoah, but they are among the missing tonight.

FRANCE HAS MISHAP

St. Nazaire, France, April 4. (AP)—The engine of the small French dirigible E-9 broke down today when the ship was in test flight, making it necessary to effect an emergency landing in which two men were slightly injured.

Air officials said they believed that another factor in the accident was a leak in the envelope which caused the ship to lose buoyancy.

The E-9, a dirigible of 3,506 cubic meters capacity and 325 horsepower, landed in a field at St. Andre Des Eaux. The injured men, captain Benac and Ensign Vauzelle, were taken to a St. Nazaire hospital. The ship carried a crew of 12. She is one of three attached to the navy.

Murder Is Charged Against 9 Persons In Voodoo Slaying

Inez, Ky., April 4 (AP)—Nine men and women were indicted here today and ordered to trial Thursday morning as a result of the "human sacrifice" slaying last February of an aged mountain woman.

The indictment charged murder, conspiracy to murder and aiding and abetting, but made no attempt to single out any one of the nine accused who allegedly choked Mrs. Lucinda Mills to death in a religious frenzy to prove their power over death.

Those named in the indictment were:

John H. Mills, 33, son of the slain woman; his wife, Alma Mills; Fred Mills and his wife, Trixie Mills; Blaine McGinis and his wife, Mollie McGinis; Mrs. Ora Moore, a daughter of the victim; Tommy Boyd, a son-in-law, and Ballard Mills, a grandson.

It was indicated by defense counsel that an effort would be made to show the accused were insane.

The Pennsylvania railroad between Camden and Atlantic City, N. J., has the fastest scheduled run of any railroad in the United States. The 59-mile journey is completed in 45 minutes.

Home Party May Be Made Part of Regular Budget

One bright side of the present day is the importance the home has regained as the center of social life. There is no more gracious or charming way to entertain friends than to invite them to dinner in one's own home. Yet many women hesitate to do this, believing they must serve an elaborate meal which will upset their carefully planned budget for food expenditure.

But the only extra expenditure needed is of time and thought. The food which keeps the family well nourished is suitable for even the most "special" guest. However, you may wish to give it a "party" touch and this is where your cleverness is needed.

Inez S. Willson, home economist, suggests this way of giving an economical cut of meat a gala air:

Planked Ground Beef With Bananas

1 pound well-ground beef chuck
1 cup cooked breakfast cereal
1 small onion, minced fine
½ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
½ cup stock or milk
4 bananas

Mix all the ingredients except the bananas and then mold the mixture into a large flat cake to fit the center of the plank. Dot with a few small bits of butter and set under the broiler. Cook for about 20 minutes, taking care that the surface doesn't get too brown. When done, arrange broiled bananas around the meat.

To prepare the bananas, remove the skins, cut in half crosswise, rub with a bit of lemon juice and butter and place under the flame for 3 or 4 minutes. This recipe is sufficient for 4 persons. To make a more elaborate looking dish, baked stuffed tomatoes may be alternated with the bananas.

The current low prices of meat bring many of the cuts formerly in the higher range well within even a strictly limited budget. There is round steak, for instance. And here is a delicious way to serve it for guests or for the family.

Swiss Cream Steak

2 pounds round steak
2 onions
½ cup sour cream
½ cup water
¼ cup butter
2 tablespoons grated cheese
Paprika
Salt and pepper

Cut meat into pieces for serving. Dust with pepper, salt and paprika and brown on both sides in butter. Add sliced onions, water and cream to which grated cheese has been added. Cover the pan tightly and let simmer until the meat is tender.

Serve with mashed potatoes, buttered beets, rolls and butter, fruit salad, dessert and beverage.

Electric fans increase a room's temperature instead of lowering it. Bodily temperature being higher than the air, relief is felt when a breeze strikes it and carries away heat from the body.

Debt-Ridden Cities Seeking Aid of U. S.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer
(Copyright 1933, NEA Service, Inc.)

Washington, April 4.—American cities, towns and counties, owing some $15,000,000,000, are all vitally interested in proposals bobbing up again in Congress to permit moratoriums on or the scaling down of local debts.

Nearly a thousand communities have defaulted during the depression on estimated obligations of somewhere around a billion dollars.

Many others, hard pressed by economic conditions and a rising tax delinquency, also seek federal relief measures such as have been proposed for mortgage-ridden farmers and others.

But there are also cities in excellent financial condition which oppose such steps on the ground that they would wreck municipal credit—which already is in very bad shape—and drive down the value of their bonds while making further borrowings impossible.

Thus far the pressure on Congress from municipalities has not been very heavy, although it has been highly concentrated from certain localities. Bondholders, although some of them want to adjust their holdings with defaulted communities, are vociferous in opposing a law which would give federal sanction to individual moratoriums.

Bondholders Opposed

Two plans have been considered by the House judiciary committee. One is the McLeod bill, which would enable cities or towns to plead insolvency before a federal court and ask for a two-year moratorium on principal and interest—which might later be extended.

The other is the Wilcox bill, which would permit political subdivisions of states to submit a plan of composition or scaling down of principal and interest to such a court for approval after the plan had received the approval of creditors holding 50 per cent or more of the amount of the obligations.

The McLeod proposal has been vigorously sponsored by the city of Detroit, which has a financial crisis and doesn't want to default. The warmest support for the Wilcox bill has come from Coral Gables and other Florida boom communities which have defaulted and are trying to settle up.

Committee May Act

It is not unlikely that the judiciary committee, which reported the McLeod bill favorably to the House late in the last session, will do so again and include provisions of the Wilcox bill. Both bills were framed as amendments to the federal bankruptcy act.

The McLeod bill's application is limited to cities of 500 or more population with indebtedness of not less than $1,000,000. It says municipalities shall be deemed insolvent when in default on obligations or when unable to pay accruing indebtedness, and when revenues will be insufficient to pay expenses, requirements for welfare relief and debt service.

The Wilcox bill—applying to all towns, counties, school and drainage districts or other taxing districts—provides that the court may approve debt readjustments when they are finally accepted by 75 per cent of the creditors, if they appear equitable and in conformity with capacity to pay.

Delaware, Maryland, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Vermont and West Virginia are said to be the only states having no political subdivisions in default.

Cities Hard Hit

Financial difficulties of Chicago, New York, Detroit, Philadelphia and other cities have been widely publicized. Many cities lived beyond their means through bond issues in prosperous times. Then came the depression, imposing greater burdens—especially for relief—and increasing tax delinquency, which now ranges from 16 to 50 per cent in the metropolitan area.

Last year New York had a gross bonded debt of $2,153,000,000, Chicago $364,000,000, Philadelphia $608,000,000, Detroit $363,000,000, Los Angeles $267,000,000, Cleveland $147,000,000, San Francisco $152,000,000.

Mayor Frank W. Murphy of Detroit has told Congress how it is in his city. He estimates 70 per cent of wage earners there are jobless. He says Detroit must have the McLeod bill or default, although she has cut $28,000,000 from operating costs in 28 months, laid off or let out 10,500 employes, and cut wages of teachers, policemen and firemen by 10 per cent three times. If Detroit settles its bonded indebtedness under present law it would be paying 70 per cent of tax receipts for debt charges.

Advocates of the moratorium plan say it would avoid financial embarrassment for insurance companies, trust companies and other institutions which would have to drop municipal bonds from portfolios if they were defaulted.

But Thomas G. Taylor, a vice president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, who appeared here to represent that and other concerns, warned that such a law would encourage cities to slow down on taxes and their collection and get into bankruptcy to avoid payments.

A special committee of the United States Chamber of Commerce has just come out flatly against extending federal bankruptcy jurisdiction to municipalities and other state subdivisions.

U. P. Briefs

Pete Johnson Escapes

Menominee — Pete Johnson, Marinette salesman, escaped from city police, they reported, after arrest on a charge of speeding 40 miles an hour south on Broadway at 8 p. m. Sunday.

Arresting Patrolmen John Erdlitz and Wilfred LaLonde told Johnson to drive his car with the police squad car to police headquarters. Instead of accompanying the police car, Johnson, police reported, turned west instead of east in Ogden avenue and fled to Marinette across the interstate bridge. He was driving a Plymouth coupe.

Hermansville Man Dies

Menominee—Walter C. Lorenson, 49, passed away about 4 p. m. Saturday in the M. and M. hospital. He had been suffering with colitis and had entered the local hospital two weeks ago for treatment.

The deceased was born in Spalding, and had made his home in Hermansville.

Survivors are his wife and four children, three daughters, Lillian, Marie and Elaine, and one son, Roger.

May Become Park

Sault Ste. Marie—Possibility that some time in the future a Michigan state park will be located on one of the nationally famous Les Cheneaux Islands in Mackinac county has resulted from action taken by the conservation commission at its March meeting.

The commission, in reply to an inquiry from the United States department of commerce relative to disposal of an island it owns in the group, said that it would accept the property were it tendered to the state.

Plane Nose Dives

Sault Ste. Marie—Landing on the concrete of US-2 Sunday afternoon between the forks and the city limits, a cabin plane, piloted by Andy Anderson, left the concrete and nosed over, damaging the propeller.

Anderson had intended taking four fishermen to Iroquois Point to survey ice conditions. Because of the muddy condition of the landing field, Anderson could not take off with a load. With an empty plane, he took off, with difficulty, and then landed on the pavement, where he was to pick up the four fishermen.

Sub Nets Opposed

Marquette—Unless use of deep sub nets is radically curtailed in the Great Lakes, whitefish, considered the most valuable of all commercial fish, are threatened with extinction.

This is the conclusion reached by Dr. John Van Oosten of the United States bureau of fisheries, assigned to the Great Lakes fishing investigation.

His views are based on actual study of the situation over a long period of time. Whether his warning is to be given proper consideration by the legislature when the conservation department introduces its commercial fishing bill remains to be seen.

Reckless Driver Given $25 Fine

Louis Murdock, 22, of Gladstone, was found guilty of reckless driving after a hearing before Justice of Peace H. E. Ranguette yesterday and was sentenced to pay a fine of $25 and costs.

Murdock was arrested after the automobile he was driving early Monday morning crashed into another car, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Allsworth, of Bark River, the accident occurring near Ford River.

Mr. and Mrs. Allsworth, who were injured in the accident, were reported to be recovering satisfactorily at St. Francis hospital.

Farmers In Delta Are Getting Out Maple Syrup Now

Although the price of maple syrup is considerably reduced this year, quite a number of farmers in Delta county are taking advantage of the opportunity to bring in a little cash out of the "sugar bush."

Last year, maple syrup was selling for $2.50 per gallon, but some farmers are reported to be offering their product for as low as $1.75. The sap has been running for several days already, and the marketing of the syrup will begin shortly.

Dona Barron of St. Nicholas, who operates probably the largest sugar bush in the county, has tapped a large number of trees again this spring. Others who are engaged in the production of syrup are: Frank Barron, Clifford Barron, Flat Rock; George McFadden, Cornell; Martin Witte and Raphael Viau, Schaffer.

The largest rattlesnake of which there is a record was caught in Florida. It was a diamond rattler 8½ feet long and 15 inches around.

VICTORY MONUMENTAL

THE Democratic forces of Michigan again on Monday rode rough-shod over their Republican opponents, sweeping the state in a landslide of votes, closely approaching the proportions of the wave which last fall carried all Democratic candidates for state offices into power, with the exception of the secretary of state. As the result of Monday's election all state offices and boards, with the single exception of that held by Frank D. Fitzgerald, are now in complete Democratic control.

Monday's victory at the polls is a tremendous one and because of the power now vested in the Democratic party in state affairs, carries a responsibility to the people of Michigan that is no longer divided. The party has now been granted both authority and responsibility, to a degree approached only by the scope of Republican rule, in effect in this state until last fall's election.

The Republican party in Michigan has now definitely become the minority party of the state, a position on which Democratic partisans held a mortgage through many lean years. It is a new experience for the Republicans of Michigan and they will likely take their medicine manfully, but with reservations. Those reservations will probably be expressed in an analysis of the manner in which the opposition party uses both its power and its responsibility.

At the same time that electors of Michigan were seating the Democrats firmly in the saddle, they also on Monday expressed this state's very explicit sentiment as to the national prohibition law. Second only to the tremendous majority rolled up at the November election for the repeal of Michigan's prohibition enforcement laws, was the majority recorded on Monday for the repeal of the national prohibition amendment. As the result of this election Michigan will become the first state in the union to go on record on this troublesome question. All that remains to make Michigan's stand on prohibition final, is for the delegates, elected from the legislative districts on Monday, to meet in Lansing next Monday and cast this commonwealth's vote for national prohibition repeal. Michigan permitted no questioning of its sentiment, by the vote cast last November and that the sentiment then expressed is final and conclusive was proven by the result of the election of this week.

PREVENT FIRES

THE forest fire season is expected to be with us in the upper peninsula about the middle of this month. About this time, too, President Roosevelt's national forestation program will get under way, giving employment to about three thousand additional men in the three national forests in this upper section of the state.

The fact that the national government will be carrying on an extensive conservation program, including forest fire prevention, tree planting and other projects, should not be any cause for the general public to release itself from any responsibility. We must continue to take an active interest in conservation, particularly with regard to forest fires.

It is highly desirable, for instance, that farmers and other citizens burn all their debris and slash prior to the time at which the snow is gone. The building of campfires by hunters, fishermen and berry pickers calls for the greatest amount of caution, since so many disastrous fires have been traced to such origin. Smokers should be careful, too, when they throw away a cigaret butt or match.

President Roosevelt's vast reforestation project will relieve unemployment to some extent in the upper peninsula, but the more far-reaching benefits will be the enhancement of recreational facilities of this great North Country. In the three national forests—Hiawatha, Ottawa and Marquette—are hundreds of lakes and streams. These sites will be improved, encouraging the public to build summer cottages and use the forests as playgrounds.

But, forest fires must be prevented. One fire might undo all the good work the vast reforestation project promises to accomplish during the coming summer.

WE MIGHT IMPORT A GREEK JUDGE

A NEW YORKER of Greek descent, upon his recent return from across the Atlantic, gave an account to reporters of what happened in Athens prior to and at the hearing of the extradition proceedings instituted for the purpose of compelling the return to this country of Samuel Insull.

In Greece it appears from the statement of this man, who ought to know the country, courts are quite political, what we might term "responsive to the public will." They have been duly "liberalized."

When Mr. Insull hired a Greek lawyer the latter, familiar with what was necessary, began to prepare the stage instead of preparing the case. He did not seem to care much about the facts at all. It was up to him to create public sentiment for Mr. Insull, not a difficult thing when one has a fair sized roll of money. Propaganda issued from this lawyer's office, heart rending stories of the great Insull, his magnificence, his loss of a princely fortune; and on the other side was painted mean politics trying to get him back here just to crucify him.

But that was not all. The lawyer apparently saw to it that the court was loaded with clackers who were to cheer at the right time, and from them the judges could receive reliable information concerning the state of public opinion. Greek judges try to follow public opinion. That is one of the beauties of a political judiciary.

In this case public opinion was so pronounced, so noisy, that the five judges who listened with some boredom to the proceedings, presently, and without warning terminated them and filed out to reach a decision. Why go on with the case when public opinion was so plain?

When they dismissed the proceeding "everyone in the court room cheered;" the judges smiled and all were happy as a day in June.

LEGALIZING BETTING

A SOMEWHAT saner attitude toward "blue laws" is beginning to become apparent in various parts of the country.

The state of Ohio, for example, has just passed legislation legalizing horse racing and horse race betting; and before you start deploring such a step, consider the situation that existed in Ohio in years past.

Ohio had horse racing—lots and lots of it, year in and year out. These races, obviously, were conducted to the tune of a vast amount of betting, all perfectly open and without concealment. Yet the betting was entirely illegal.

The result was that Ohio had all of the evils that go with race track gambling—and a lot of other evils besides. The betting was entirely unregulated; county officials either winked blithely at the law or were quietly bribed to look the other way; and the state failed to collect a very sizable revenue which it will get under the new law. The change simply means that Ohio has repealed a law that wasn't being enforced anyway, and has, thereby, ended a lot of graft and hypocrisy.

PROTECTING THE INVESTOR

THAT President Roosevelt's plan to institute strict governmental regulation over all new security issues will meet with strong public support goes without saying.

It is possible that that would not have been the case a few years ago. We weren't ready, then, to admit that investors need federal protection from those who are trying to get money. We were riding on the crest of the wave, and the mere suggestion that any but an important percentage of the new stock and bond issues could cost buyers their shirts was looked upon as perverted and unpatriotic.

Since then, though, we have had our fingers burned; and we shall emerge from the depression with our whole machinery for handling money, loans, investments and the like on a much sounder basis than ever before.

ONE I LOVE

(By NEA Service) BY LAURA LOU BROOKMAN

CHAPTER XXXV

Headlights loomed at the turn in the road and a big car came racing toward them. It was filled with a noisy, laughing crowd and as they passed the roadster a jeering laugh shrilled out. Someone cried raucously, "Look at the necking party!"

Almost in the same instant the car was gone but the spell of the night had been broken. Janet moved away. She said, "It's been ages since I've seen you, Jeff. What have you been doing?"

"Oh, the usual things. Fellow in the office took me home with him last week-end. He's got a little place out about 20 miles, drives in every day. Say—it's great, too! He and his wife live out there all the year round. They've got two kids—both boys. There's a stream not so far away and you ought to see those little devils swim!"

"You like the country, don't you?"

"I certainly do! Nelson's got a tennis court and when we weren't playing or swimming we sat around on a big porch swapping yarns. The kids have a dog, too. Not much for looks but smart just the same. Oh, I liked it out there! You bet I did. I think a fellow would be pretty lucky if he could have a home like that—"

"Look!" Janet stopped him. "Fire-flies!"

Tiny lights flashing here and there in the darkness glowed for an instant and then disappeared.

"That's what they are," Jeff agreed.

"I love to watch them," Janet told him. "There's something almost like magic about them. Look—there are some more!"

"You wouldn't think they were so wonderful if you could see one of them in daylight."

"No, I suppose not." There was a pause and then Janet said, "I think you're right about it, Jeff. A home in the country—like you described—would be wonderful. I think I'd like it better than Mrs. Curtis' big house. I mean if I could have her house for my own instead of just working there. It's beautiful and everything is expensive but I don't think anyone's ever been very happy there."

"How about you?" Jeff asked quickly. "Aren't you happy?"

Janet looked away toward the necklace of lights flung over the city. "I wasn't thinking about myself," she said. "It doesn't make much difference where I am, I guess."

Suddenly she wanted to confide in Jeff. He had helped her through hard times before. She wanted to pour out to someone all the worries, the struggle and suffering that had been stored up in her heart for so long. Jeff was a real friend and would understand.

She turned toward him. "I don't know whether you knew or not," she said slowly, "Rolf's back. You remember I told you about him?"

"Yes, I remember."

"It's all turned out in such a queer way," the girl hurried on. "You see Betty—the girl he married—is Mrs. Curtis' daughter. I'd never have gone there to work if I'd known that. I only found it out a few weeks ago. While Betty and Rolf were away. Then I thought I'd leave before they got back but they came unexpectedly."

"Have you—seen him?"

"Oh, yes. Several times. Betty comes to the house almost every day but Rolf isn't there very often. Do you think I should go away anyhow, Jeff?"

"Why, I don't know." The young man's voice sounded rather uncomfortable. "That's entirely up to you, seems to me. If you want to, stay. And if you don't—why don't?"

"It isn't as simple as that," Janet assured him with a sigh. "I'd have to have another job and there don't seem to be any. I've read the want ad columns and one day I went to an agency. There don't seem to be any jobs anywhere for secretaries or stenographers. And Mrs. Curtis has been awfully nice. She raised my salary a few weeks ago."

"Then it seems to me that's settled," Jeff said. "I'd stay."

"It doesn't seem to make much difference." Janet went on thoughtfully. "I'd feel the way I do no matter where I was. I mean—"

"I know what you mean!" Jeff broke in harshly. "You can't forget the fellow, can you? Still crazy about him. You try to tell yourself you're not but just the same it's true. Oh, yes, I know all about that!"

"Why, Jeff!" She was amazed at his vehemence—and then all at once she understood. "You mean—you've felt the same way? You mean there's a girl you're in love with and she cares more for someone else?"

She could not see his face in the darkness. "Something like that," Jeff told her.

For a moment there was silence between them. Then Janet put a hand on the young man's arm. "I'm sorry, Jeff," she said softly. "I wish I could help. I suppose there isn't any way?"

"No," he said. "I guess not."

Neither spoke. Then after a time Janet said, "Do you want to tell me about it, Jeff?"

"Nothing to tell," he said. "There was a girl but she fell for another fellow and—well, that's all there is to it."

"You're braver about it than I am," Janet told him. "I wish I could be like you. Oh, Jeff!" she went on bitterly, "why do things have to be the way they are? Why can't the right people fall in love and stay in love? It never seems to be that way in real life! At least hardly ever!"

"That's too deep a question for me," Jeff said. "I've wondered about it myself sometimes."

After a time Janet remembered that it was growing late. Throughout the drive back to Mrs. Curtis' home she thought about what Jeff had told her. Who was this girl who had treated him so badly? Dolores Calahan? Someone he had known before coming to Lancaster? But a young man deeply in love with one girl would not have shown such interest in selecting a gift for another. It must be Dolores.

He had never mentioned her, never spoken of her since the day Janet had met them together. That seemed significant. Young men often mention girls who are casual acquaintances. It is the one enshrined deeply in the heart about whom they are reticent.

"How could she do it?" Janet asked herself. Why, any girl in the world should be proud of Jeff's love! Proud of Jeff, himself, too. He had wit, attractiveness and he was loyal, dependable and understanding.

And here he was breaking his heart because Dolores preferred someone else. Janet's own opinion of the girl was not high but

LYRICS OF LIFE

THE WORST IS OVER

The hearts of men were filled with fear,
Assurance gone, stagnation near,
And when the banks at last shut down,
Yes, all the banks all over town,
We thought the worst had come at last—
But, with that hour, the worst was past.

The worst was three long years ago,
When simple saving was too slow.
A time when ev'ryone required
Not what he needed but desired.
When debt was such an easy thing
That crops were harvested in spring.

But now we're thinking how to get
Not into debt but out of debt;
The road to riches is the same.
We find, as once our fathers came:
It's first to earn, and then to spend.
And own real value at the end.

The worst was over when we stood
On common ground, the common good.
The one concern. However dour,
All men were equal in that hour.
Our purpose plain, our duty clear,
The worst is over, best is near.

MOREAU WINS IN BALDWIN

Only Two New Township Supervisors on County Road

Supervisor W. B. Moreau was reelected in Monday's spring election in Baldwin township, defeating Emil Norden, slip-candidate, by 166 to 134 votes.

As the result of the election, there will be only two new members from the rural districts on the Delta county board of supervisors. They are: Jay Kleiber, Maple Ridge; and Nelson Thibault, Garden. The re-elected members are: Jovite Robert, Escanaba township; D. N. Kee Jr., Brampton; Martin Birk, Fairbanks; George Peterson, Bay de Noc; O. J. Thorsen, Wells; Henry A. Kasten, Ford River; Henry F. Gustafson, Ensign; E. L. Daigneault, Bark River; Sanford N. Harrod, Cornell; J. P. Cameron, Nahma; H. J. Wilford, Masonville.

Whether the election of Ole Peterson as a member of the Gladstone city commission will change the complexion of Gladstone representation on the county board is problematical. The present Gladstone delegation is composed of: J. Paul Bushong, Claude Hawkins, Erick Johnson and Peter Peterson.

The Escanaba city supervisors are: Carl J. Sawyer, Edgar D. Anderson, Carl E. Anderson, Harry D. Brackett, Clyde J. Burns, Albert Halvorson, H. H. Shepeck, Elmer St. Martin and Fred Swanson.

Brazil Checks Borrowing Habit

Rio de Janeiro (AP)—Brazil, with most of her foreign debt in suspension, plans a constitutional barrier against future borrowing orgies by the nation, states and municipalities. The constitutional drafting commission has approved an article providing that foreign loans may be contracted only for productive projects.

Rural School Figures Compiled by Woolpert

Detailed figures on expenditures, revenues and other phases of the operation of rural schools in Delta county are contained in a report recently compiled by C. U. Woolpert, county commissioner of schools.

The tabulations, shown below, are based on the annual school reports for the school year, which closed June 30, 1932, and on the 1932 school census.

The total cost shown here include such items as teachers' wages, library books, equipment except furniture, and the general purpose fund, while payments on bonds, interest, and tuition paid to other schools are not included. The general purpose fund includes certain items such as officers' salaries, insurance, digging wells, building fences, grading yards, etc., should not be used here for they are not properly a part of the cost of educating the pupils enrolled any more than others not enrolled during the year, but they are not separated in the annual report and cannot therefore be left out of this tabulation even though they make the cost per pupil higher than it should be.

Washington News Column

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

Washington (NEA)—It's a good thing the congressmen from Kentucky didn't bring along any of them thar shootin' irons, because the feud they have started on the floor of the house must be as bitter as any that ever flamed in the wild mountains of the Blue Grass state.

Certainly it has been an exchange of fighting words.

Col. Fred M. Vinson, Col. Andrew Jackson, Col. Virgil Chapman and Col. Finley Hamilton, all Democratic members from Kentucky, appear to have started this field day when they voted against the Roosevelt economy bill.

But the real shooting began when the famous Louisville Courier-Journal, Col. Robert Worth Bingham's paper—he's the new ambassador to England, exploded with an editorial captioned "Assassins' Bullets," wailed at the "shame of that betrayal which Kentucky must suffer."

Courts and Colonels

One gent who didn't take that bit of rugged journalism lying down was Col. May. He rose on the floor with a speech he called "From the police court of Louisville to the Court of St. James."

The first thing Col. Bingham had done in Louisville, said Col. May, was to run for county attorney and so corrupt were the ballot boxes they had to be disregarded.

Col. May went on to talk of the man "who had hibernated with every discredited Republican organization in Kentucky for 20 years and always found easy admittance wherever crookedness and graft prevailed." Roosevelt had answered the agonized cry of Kentuckians, he said, by packing Bingham off to England.

"Cowardly slacker in the war" was another of Col. May's sweet epithets.

And Col. May, after barking back to Andrew Jackson in defense of his vote, finished by shouting just where Col. Bingham and his newspaper could go.

Meanwhile, Col. Vinson, now in his fourth term, had been writing himself a speech several yards long. He asked leave to print and covered ten columns of the Congressional Record explaining his economy bill vote and pasting that "dastardly editorial" and Bingham. He too quoted Andrew Jackson.

On the Taxpayers

And he told how Col. John Young Brown, another Democratic Kentucky congressman and a brand new member, had viciously attacked his fellow Kentuckians although he himself had changed his vote after voting in caucus to curtail the economy proposal.

The house next heard from the green Col. Brown. He had figured out that putting Col. Vinson's speech in the Record had cost $225 of taxpayers' money, that it would cost $3,240.73 if sent to everyone in his district and $29,166.99 if sent to every Kentucky voter.

"I may say to the gentleman from Kentucky," promised Col. Brown, "that wherever the gentleman from Kentucky has the floor and seeks unanimous consent to extend his remarks I shall object until I know what the remarks are about; in the interest of the taxpayers he will make no more extensions in the Record until I personally have read them unless the house overrules me. Every time I am successful in stopping an extension of his remarks I will save the taxpayers $30,000 in letters franked through the mails to voters in Kentucky explaining why he did or did not do something. . . . He started this."

Courtly Compliments

Col. Vinson demanded and received the floor for ten minutes. He apologized to the house for "the lack of understanding of the new member from Kentucky."

"My charge against him was not that he was disloyal—his head is so thick, his brains work so slowly, that he can not understand the English language."

Then rose Gen. Charles Martin of Oregon, the army's former assistant chief of staff, to demand: "Mr. Speaker, why should the troubles of Kentucky be aired on this floor? There are 48 states in the Union."

That threw cold water on the feud temporarily, but nobody thinks the house has heard the last of the bellicose and verbose Kentuckians.

ODDS AGAINST HIM

The much-sought-after bachelor was seated between two dear old ladies at the wedding breakfast.

"Do you know," he said, making the conversation, "I think single men are much worse off than married men."

"Do you really think so?" his neighbors asked, eagerly.

"I most certainly do," replied the bachelor. "You see, the married man fears only one woman, while the single man fears them all."—Answers.

U. P FORESTS TO AID 3,000

Roosevelt Conservation Program to Give Much Work

Under the national forestry work relief program, details of which are being worked out in Washington, it is expected approximately 3,000 men will be employed in the three national forests in the upper peninsula, it was stated today by R. B. McKennan, district supervisor for the United States forest supervisor, with headquarters in Munising.

McKennan has tentatively estimated that 1,000 men can be employed to good advantage in each forest, namely: Ottawa, Hiawatha and Marquette.

The tentative plan calls for establishment of 15 relief camps, five in each of the three national forests.

The complement of 1,000 men proposed for each forest area would be divided about equally between the five camps in that area.

If the program is approved as he has submitted it, McKennan expects to start construction of the proposed camps within the next two weeks and by July 1, he said, the 15 camps should be ready for operation.

He proposes to start operations with from 150 to 200 men and to increase his forces as rapidly as necessary as the work progresses.

THEATRES

Ann Harding and Leslie Howard are again co-starred! This time it is in RKO-Radio Pictures' adaptation of that delightful Philip Barry play that was last season's stage hit in New York—"The Animal Kingdom." Leslie Howard is playing the part he created on the stage. The same is true of William Gargan as the pugilist butler, and of Ilka Chase as a not-too-bright society woman.

"The Animal Kingdom," showing today at the Delft Theatre, presents a searching study of modern life. It shows, with almost clinical insight that men's mistresses do not necessarily live out of wedlock—that many of them are those who preen themselves under the title of "respectable wife."

Miss Harding plays the mistress who turns out really to deserve the name of wife. Leslie Howard is, of course, the husband. Myrna Loy plays the seductive wife. Others in the cast not already mentioned are Neil Hamilton, Henry Stephenson, Leni Stengel and Donald Dillaway.

Edward H. Griffith has directed "The Animal Kingdom" from the script by Horace Jackson. The picture has been beautifully staged and, with four beautiful women in the cast and the background one of culture and wealth, the gowns are something to rave about.

. . . all you could ask for!

Just two words...

Yes, I have heard about two words; and now and then three words — but "They Satisfy" means "To gratify fully."

Why do these two words "they satisfy" fit Chesterfields? Because Chesterfield Cigarettes are milder. Because Chesterfield Cigarettes taste better.

Chesterfield's way of blending and cross-blending fine Turkish and Domestic tobaccos brings out better flavor and aroma.

Add Zest to Sunday Supper

Sunday suppers can be the most enjoyable meals in the whole week.

They come at a time when everyone is relaxed and feels like having a few sociable hours lingering over the table.

One hot dish is all that is needed to make a Sunday supper a success. You can get your salad all ready in the refrigerator and have fruit or some simple dessert ready too. By adding one savory hot dish, you have the making of a memorable Sunday night supper.

Cheese souffle is among the nicest things you can choose for this occasion. It is satisfying, without being too filling. It has zest to its flavor, which is pleasing.

Here is the recipe which serves five, when salad accompanies it, or four, if it is about all you have to eat:

3 tablespoonsful of quick tapioca.
1 cup scalded milk.
1 cup grated plain American cheese.
3 eggs, with the yolks beaten until thick and lemon colored, the white beaten separate, until stiff, with one teaspoonful of salt added.

First you scald your milk in the double boiler, add tapioca and cook, stirring constantly, for 15 minutes, or until the tapioca is clear. Then add the grated cheese and stir until it is melted. Cool the whole mixture. Then add the egg yolks, mix well and fold in the egg whites.

Bake in a greased baking dish set in a pan of hot water, in a moderately hot oven (350 degrees F.). Cook 50 minutes, or 30 minutes if you make it in individual rammekins. It is done when it shrinks a trifle and is brown.

The success of cheese souffle lies in serving it piping hot. But that means that you must time everything so it can be rushed to the table and served immediately, when done.

P. O. ERECTION IS SUSPENDED

Appropriation Will Be Used in Reforestation Program

Construction of a federal building for post office purposes in Gladstone has been indefinitely suspended, a communication received here Monday by B. R. Micks from Congressman Prentiss M. Brown reveals.

The contents of the message follow:

"Referring again to our correspondence concerning the Gladstone post office, you are advised that, under the reforestation act, the president today issued an executive order designating certain unobligated appropriations for use in carrying out the reforestation program.

"The appropriation for the Gladstone post office was among those so designated; consequently the erection of the post office there will be indefinitely suspended.

"It is my belief, however, that the president's reforestation program will be of far greater benefit to the state in the way of employment and the eventual revival of our timber industries than would have been the erection of a post office at Gladstone."

An appropriation of $70,000 was originally obtained for construction of a post office building here through the efforts of former representative Frank P. Bohn of Newberry. It came under the emergency building act.

A site was sought by the government last summer and bids were submitted on 11 different pieces of property. In many cases the prices sought for the property was somewhat higher than the approximate figure which the government was willing to pay. Various prospective sites were surveyed early in January of this year by Postal Inspector George P. Eeidenbach, acting for the treasury department, and Mr. Reidenbach met with the bidders at the time and advised them that their bids could be revised both as to size of the plot and price. Several revised bids were submitted, one as recently as two weeks ago, it is reported.

Inspector Reidenbach was in Gladstone yesterday negotiating for an extension of the lease on the present post office building at 624 Delta avenue.

Magazines Publish Poems Of Sohlberg

Several poems written by A. Theodore Sohlberg, local justice of peace, realtor and insurance man, have been published during recent months. The two reprinted herewith are in free verse.

The first entitled "Roads" was accepted and appeared in Inspiration, a journal for aspiring poets and poetry lovers devoted to the verse of yet unrecognized poets. It follows:

ROADS

They follow the steps of pioneers
Into unwonted places; they tame the wilderness
And set back the bourn of the wastes.
They subdue the deserts and build cities
In the great voids.

They creep into the slashings to guide the feet
Of lowly builders of homes and seekers of peace;
They march across the continents
And quiver to the tread of armies
And the entourage of kings.

They wander into deep forests, and lift themselves
Over wide rivers and little brooks; and wind
Past fragrant orchards and clove blooming pastures;
They hunt for loveliness in distant valleys
Where strife ceases.

They rise over the moors to meet the feet of the stars—
And drift into those far countries
Where dreams have their homeland, and the shadows end.

MY PEOPLE

They live close together
In a little cluster of houses
Between the bay and the high bluff.

The men
Come out on summer mornings
To water their front lawns.
They grow dahlais before their houses
And plant lettuce and radishes in their back yards.
In the evenings
They sit in their living rooms
And listen to Amos 'nd Andy on the air.

A group of old men
Sit about a box stove in the blacksmith shop
And yarn about old days.
They disparage
The commission form of city government,
And they are very critical of the present generation.

Grimy working-men with large families
Give their weekly earnings to their wives,
Who pay the rent, the grocers' accounts,
And the water and light bills.
They come up town on Saturday nights
To get shaved and to buy
Beef roasts for their Sunday dinners.

There are slattern women
Who get the children's breakfasts
Out of paste board boxes;
And "dress up" to go out in the afternoons.
And there are women of thrift,
Who cook diligently and wash dishes;
They sweep floors and make beds
And darn the children's stockings;
They have jars of cookies for the "kiddies"
On the pantry shelves.

And there are little children
Whose ways are uncharted.
Whom errant tides shall sweep into far lands,
And whose feet shall travel in strange places.

These are my people:
They wait for joy to come in the morning
And fear the pain that is to be tomorrow's gift.

RECORD VOTE POLLED HERE

City Goes Democratic as Over 1700 Cast Ballots

A record vote for spring elections was set here Monday when over 1700 electors went to the polls and cast ballots in the annual city and biennial state elections. Two years ago the vote was less than 700.

Gladstone, along with the county, went Democratic by close to 3 to 1. Of the Republican candidates, Dillman made the best run here polling nearly 100 votes more than any other candidate of that party. He carried the second precinct by a narrow margin but the other three gave Van Wagoner a little more than a 2 to 1 advantage. Socialist ballots cast numbered about 60 and there were four Prohibition party votes.

Voters favored repeal of the eighteenth amendment by approximately 8 to 1, Gallagher receiving 1492 votes while 190 ballots were marked for Wood, the dry delegate.

Continuance of the city band was voted down by 1059 to 615.

Unofficial returns in the local election showed Ole Peterson was elected to the city commission over five other candidates including August Goodman, who sought re-election for a third term. The vote was Peterson, 500; Froberg, 438; Miller, 401; Goodman, 193; Call, 80, and Stephanick, 34. Sohlberg, reelected justice of the peace, received 784 votes.

The vote on state offices follows:

Justices of Supreme Court—398, McDonald 391, Bushnell 1144, Sharpe 1116.

Regents to University—Johnson 568, Clements 373, Hemans 1120, Cook 1128.

Superintendent of Public Instruction—Pearce 454, Voelker 1114.

Member Board of Education—Jeffers 374, Wilson 1130.

Agricultural Board—Rogers 363, McPherson 370, Halstead 1113, Downing 1119.

Highway Commissioner—Dillman 552, Van Wagoner 1160.

Joseph Curry, 84, Claimed By Death

Joseph Curry, aged Gladstone resident, died yesterday morning at his home, 806 Superior avenue. He was in his 85th year and death was attributed to old age. He was seriously ill for only a week although he had been ailing since six years ago when he suffered a slight stroke.

Deceased was born Jan. 9, 1849 in Kent County, Canada, and at the age of 21 came to the United States and Detroit. He lived later at Saginaw and then at Gladwin, Mich., all the while working in lumber camps. He came to Gladstone seven years ago. He was united in marriage 48 years ago to Lydia Davis to which union were born two children.

Surviving are his widow, one son, Norman, and a daughter, Mary, both at home. There is also one grandchild.

The body was removed to the Swenson Brothers funeral parlors to be prepared for burial. Funeral arrangements are indefinite but rites will probably be Thursday from the Methodist Episcopal church, Rev. H. W. Colenso officiating. Burial will be in Fernwood cemetery.

Feature No. 2

Perhaps the dances our grandfather and grandmother loved won't go into disuse after all—at least if the enthusiasm of a group of average Hollywood extra people may be taken as a criterion.

These extras were used in Richard Barthelmess' latest First National picture, "The Cabin in the Cotton," now running at the Rialto Theatre. This feature will be shown at 7 and 9:55 p. m.

QUESTION DOYLE TOWNSHIP VOTE

Report 8 Ballots in Supervisor Race Void; Recount Likely

Matthew Brearley, former Doyle township supervisor and slip candidate who was defeated 100-94 at the general election by Ralph Merwin, present supervisor, yesterday afternoon said that it was very likely that he would demand a recount. It was reported that eight slips with no marks were credited to Merwin's poll by the township election board. If the recount is made and it is decided that the eight votes credited to Merwin are declared void, Brearley would be the winner by a vote of 94-92.

Two slip candidates running against present supervisors were victorious Tuesday. William S Bauers defeated E. J. LaPorte, veteran Mueller township supervisor, 96-83, and William Brain won from Supervisor Angus McDougall, Germfask supervisor who ran on slips after having been defeated by Brain in the primary.

Frank J. Bell, of Seney, easily defeated Charles Smith, 69-29 and the veteran George Gray, Inwood, won from Henry Orschell slip candidate, 138-93.

In Doyle township the constable race was exceedingly close with William Bowman and George Walker winners, Bowman secured 162 votes, Walker 161, John Ring, 160, and Leon Rice, 155. John A. Anderson was elected highway commissioner over Alex Walker, 112-69; Andrew Mickelson won from Walker 171-2 for the overseer post; and Isaac Pawley defeated William Belanger 166-73 for a position on the board of review.

Slip candidates for the offices of treasurer and highway commissioner were unsuccessful in Germfask township.

Nation Was Safer Place to Live in 1932 Than in 1931

Chicago (AP)—The United States was by 9 per cent a safer place in which to reside, walk, ride, work and play during 1932 than in the preceding year, reports the National Safety council on the basis of records from 23 states.

A survey of accidental deaths in the nation in 1932 indicates, the council reports, a total of 85,000 fatalities compared with 97,415 in 1931, establishing a new rate of 70.5 fatalities per 100,000 population, lowest in the country's history except for 1921 and 1922.

As to Home Tragedies

Of the four major groups in which accidents were classified, home tragedies, nearly a third of which occurred to children under 15 years of age, showed by far the least impressive decline, about 3 per cent.

There was a drop of 14 per cent in industrial accident fatalities, much of which, it was granted, was due to shrinkage in employment. However, records of member companies showed that accidents dropped appreciably more than exposure.

Fatal motor vehicle accidents declined about 13 per cent from 1931, a drop that cannot be wholly accounted for by the six per cent reduction in vehicle registrations and the 6.84 per cent drop in gasoline consumption.

Drownings Drop, Too

In public accidents where motor vehicles were not involved a 10 per cent drop was noted. Drownings make up about 30 per cent of all fatalities in this group. Railroad accidents (not involving motor vehicles) about 16 percent, and firearms accidents 11 per cent.

(Associated Press Financial Writer)

New York, April 4 (AP)—Stocks were irregularly lower through most of today's market, but firmed sufficiently at the close to give the composite a small net advance.

Mining and sugar shares provided most of the boost, rails looking rather soggy. Commodity markets were mixed while bonds, with the exception of a steadier U. S. government group, averaged downward.

Metal equities came forward coincident with word that Secretary Woodin and congressional leaders were to discuss proposed silver legislation. Sugar stocks improved on firmness of the market for their staple.

Wall Street's interest in rail shares has subsided noticeably in the last week or so. Legislation designed to help the roads is still in the formative stage and the prospect of further reorganizations, overshadows in the speculative mind such traffic gains as have been recorded. Freight loadings last week apparently measured up to the showing of the previous week and there is some hope that the seasonal peak will top that of 1932.

Automobile production is picking up while steel mill activity gives evidence of a slightly better demand. In this connection "American Metal Market" says: "It is reasonably certain that April will average well above March but March was an extremely poor month," whereas it normally sees a high production ratio in comparison with the rest of the year.

Money markets were plentifully supplied with funds but demand was light and rates again dipped. Stock exchange call loans renewed at two percent, while bankers' acceptance rates were reduced ¼ of one percent on all maturities.

CHICAGO GRAIN
Chicago, April 4—Buoyancy characterized the entire grain list today except wheat. Fresh high-price records for the season were attained in corn, oats, rye and barley.
Liberal selling to realize profits on recent huge purchases of wheat acted as a curb against new advances in that cereal. Enlarged speculative demand for grains other than wheat attracted much notice.
Wheat closed unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to ½ cent lower, with May 53 to 53 5-8 advanced, oats 1-8 to ¼ up, and provisions unchanged to 5 cents higher.
Independent strength shown by the corn market served to put backbone into all the feed grains, and even at times hoisted wheat. Assertions were heard that compared with a month ago this represented at country loading points in Iowa an advance of exactly 100 percent.
Renewal of dust storms in parts of the territory stretching from Nebraska to the Texas Panhandle was partly responsible for a transient rally in wheat values, but there were some indications of moisture relief. Oats shipping demand was unusually active.
Provisions averaged higher with grains.
Closing indemnities: Wheat—May, 54 7-8 to 55, 56 5-8 to 3-4; July, 59 5-8 to 3-4, 57 5-8; September, 56 to 5-8, 58 1-8 to 7-8. Corn—May, 52, 52 7-8; July, 53 3-4 to 7-8, 54 7-8; September, 55½, 56½.

New York, April 4—Call money, steady, 2 percent all day.
Time loans, steady; 60 to 120 days, 2; 5 to 6 months, 2 percent.
Prime commercial paper, 3.
Bankers' acceptances, easier; 30 days, 1 7-8 to 1 3-4; 60 to 90 days, 1 7-8 to 1 3-4; 4 months, 2 1-8 to 2; 6 months, 2 3-8 to 2¼.

Bids Are Scarce; Prices Unchanged

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER
(Associated Press Financial Editor)

New York, April 4 (AP)—The curb market continued its drifting course today and left no marked imprint on prices. Sales totaled about 120,000 shares against 110,000 yesterday.

Repeating the action of recent sessions, most of the leaders sagged a bit, but registered a fair recovery from the extreme lows. With the less active issues, it was a case of scarcity of bids or insufficient offerings, which led to some fairly wide swings.

Trading leaders commanding the most interest included Deere & Co., American Gas & Electric, Electric Bond and Share, American Superpower and Standard Oil of Indiana. These ended the session unchanged to a shade lower.

BY VICTOR EUBANK
(Associated Press Financial Writer)

New York, April 4 (AP)—Only United States government securities and a few straggling foreign and corporate issues breasted the slowly ebbing tide in the bond market today.

While there was apparently little severe pressure exerted against the various leaders, the trend was irregularly lower throughout the session. Trading, as in recent sessions, was indifferent, with sales totaling only $8,401,000, parvalue. The average for 60 domestic corporate bonds was down two-t enths of a point.

Federal loans, with the exception of Liberty fourth 4¼s, were quite dull. Domestic uptilities were not as soft as usual, but the majority eased. The rails were the heaviest of the various groups.

The foreign list was mixed. German government issues declined fractionally, and some of the republic's corporate issues were off 1 to around 3 points. Japanese, British and French loans firmed and bonds of Uruguay advanced fractionally to 3 points. The Argentines were heavy.

New York, April 4 (AP)—Unfilled orders of Allis Chalmers Manufacturing Co. on March 31 totaled $4,501,000 against $4,371,000 at the end of February.

Stockholders of North American Aviation, Inc., will meet April 26 to vote on the proposed acquisition of assets of General Aviation Corp.

Freight loadings of the Wabash last week amounted to 11,055 cars compared with 10,700 cars in the previous week.

Domes Mines' gold production in March was valued at $412,565. This compares with $319,052 a year ago.

Dow, Jones & Co. said today that business of Coca Cola Co. so far this year has been running slightly below the first quarter of 1932. February was a little behind 1932 "and indications are that March results may reflect some aggravations of the business slump due to the banking holiday, although it is not likely to have affected Coca Cola's earnings to any appreciable extent." In the first quarter of 1932 the company had net profit of $2,318,220.

The only change in today's gold statement of the New York Federal Reserve Bank was an importation of $5,900 from Mexico.

AID TO MEMORY

Cheyenne, Wyo.—Chief of Police A. A. Sanders is a great reviver of memories. A young man was arrested for disposing of two rings which he had found in a woman's purse. The young man's memory lapsed conveniently, and he said he didn't remember where he had disposed of the rings. Sanders administered five days in jail as a cure for the loss of memory. Sure enough, on the second day the youth's memory returned and the rings were returned to the woman who had lost them.

America has become a country of hard liquor drinkers. I am glad to see the return of beer and wine, which I regard as a temperance move.

FRIGHTENS FATHER

Lisbon, O.—Michael Mara, 7, gave his father quite a scare. The youngster had been with his father, Chippo Mara, in the woods. Without telling his father, Michael decided to go home. When Mara discovered that the boy had disappeared, he called Sheriff Frank Ballantine and deputies, who dragged Beaver Creek in an effort to find the boy. Several hours later the boy was found walking on the highway. He had started home, but had taken the wrong road.

since Jeff loved Dolores, Janet wanted him to win her. Jeff was too fine to be cheated in that way.

* * *

Janet felt there was a new bond of understanding between them when she told him good night. She said with a sudden rush of feeling, "Oh, Jeff, you've been such a good friend! You helped me just by listening tonight. Maybe we can help each other. If there's ever any way—if there's anything I can do for you you'll tell me, won't you?"

"I'll tell you. Thanks, Janet."

She slipped her hand into his, pressed it and then disappeared into the house.

Several times during the next few days Janet thought of that conversation. But there were other things to occupy her mind. Mrs. Curtis decided suddenly to go to the lake. Doctor Roberts thought the change would be good for her and it was settled that she was to leave the following week. It was amazing what a burst of activity this decision called forth. There was shopping and packing to do, reservations to me made at the hotel where Mrs. Curtis always stayed. All of the servants except Bertha were to leave for their respective vacations. Janet would go with Mrs. Curtis.

Silver Bay, so Mrs. Curtis assured her, was a very quiet resort. Some of the families had cottages. Some of them stayed at the Lake Shore or the Bayview hotels but the same families came back each season.

In spite of the fact that Silver Bay was so quiet, Mrs. Curtis ordered three new chiffon dresses, a new dinner gown and several wash silks for mornings. She bought three new hats and four pairs of shoes and there were ever so many smaller items for her wardrobe.

Janet bought herself a white frock, a very simple dress suitable for summer evenings. It was longer than her street dresses, with tiny sleeves and a low, rounding neck. She put the dress on Sunday evening and came down stairs.

Dusk had begun to fall but there were no lights burning. No one was in sight. Janet walked through the hall and into the library. Buster, seeing her, jumped down from a chair and came toward her, purring.

Janet picked up the cat, stroked his head absent-mindedly. She was thinking of a night a year ago when she and Rolf Carlyle had gone to an amusement park and extravagantly ridden three times on a roller-coaster. It was such a gay evening! They had laughed and had such a good time. She thought of the girl she had been a year ago. Such a different girl than she was today! Rolf had changed too.

Thinking of Rolf, Janet turned. She had to think of him, for there he was.

Erie Bowlers Get High 1113 Game In A. B. C. Tournament

Columbus, O., April 4 (AP)—The Eckerd Drugs of Erie, Pa., scoring games of 911, 1006 and 989, led the 21 teams participating tonight in the American Bowling Congress tournament.

Their total of 2,906 gave them tenth place in the team standings.

After a poor 795 opening count, Parris Billiards, another Erie group, followed with 926 and then 1,113 to total 2,834. Their final game was the highest single session of the current tourney.

Only one change was recorded among the minor events leaders on the matinee card. E. Wagner and A. Hansen, Elizabeth, N. J., scored 1291 to tie W. Letvitz and F. Ashton, Jackson, Mich., for sixth place in the doubles division.

Arctic exploration is an unprofitable career. The most famous leaders of Arctic expeditions seldom average more than a few hundred dollars a year in income after meeting their expenses.

Supp'ying Farm With Water All Depends On Dog

Columbus, O. (AP)—When C. G. Holycross wants water from the well on his farm, near here, he simply calls:

"Here, Rex!"

Rex, a 125-pound German shepherd, unhesitatingly leaps to his place on a treadmill and Holycross' "one dog-power" pump is in action.

The dog not only pumps enough water for a drink but keeps a supply on hand sufficient to water 30 head of livestock and to fulfill the household needs.

Five years old, Rex has been the source of power at the handle-less pump since he was a year-old pup.

"Until Rex took over the job," the farmer explains, "two men were needed at times to keep us in water by hand power.

"At the suggestion of a farmhand I got a treadmill and tied Rex on it. I only had to tie him on twice before he caught on. After that I had only to speak to him whenever water was wanted."

Rex seldom has to work long at a time. He regulates that himself. Fifteen minutes is about his limit, and then he rests.

HELD FOR MURDER

Kalamazoo (AP)—Cody Calloway, 38, and Mrs. Margaret Britton, 33, were held for trial on murder charges following arraignment in circuit court Saturday, as the result of the death of the woman's eight year old daughter, Kathleen. The child died March 24, from injuries suffered by floggings.

BIG CUB DEAL AGAIN HINTED

Outer Garden Troubles Are Experienced by Charlie Grimm

Liberal, Kas., April 4 (AP)—Outfielding troubles became more acute than ever today for the Cubs as they neared Kansas City.

Vince Barton, one of the reserves counted on to fill the place of the injured Kiki Cuyler, was suffering so keenly from an eye infection that Manager Charlie Grimm decided to send him direct to Chicago to visit a specialist.

Barton's departure again gave rise to rumors that the Cubs either would make a big deal for a major league outfielder of proven talent or ask Los Angeles to send "Tuck" Stain back for immediate use.

Manager Grimm announced that Lonnie Warneke, National league pitching champion for 1932, would hurl the season's opener against St. Louis next Wednesday, with Guy Bush and Pat Malone following on successive days.

RUMOR UNTRUE

St. Louis, April 4 (AP)—Sam Breadon, president of the St. Louis Cardinals, denied today there was any truth in a rumor that the Redbirds were considering a deal with the Chicago Cubs involving the exchange of "Pepper" Martin and Southpaw Jim Mooney, of the Cardinals, for infielder Mark Koenig, of the Cubs, and some cash.

Breadon said such a deal is "out of the question." He added, however, that there is a possibility with the Cubs, although no overtures have been made to the Chicago club.

In Training Camps

DETROIT WINS, 9 TO 6

Chattanooga, Tenn., April 4 (AP)—Pete Fox got five hits in five trips to bat today to lead the Detroit Tigers to a 9 to 6 victory over the Chattanooga club of the Southern league here.

Fox, rookie center fielder from Beaumont, behaved himself like the answer to a baseball scout's dream, clouting one hit to the roof of the left field bleachers for a home run with Walker and Stone ahead of him.

It was Fox's home run that began the Lookout's downfall, and after that most of the Bengals did well by themselves at the plate. Marvin Owen got a home run, and Charley Gehringer was credited with a single, a double and a triple in four times at bat.

Tommy Bridges pitched the first six innings, yielding eight hits, which, however, were so scattered that they yielded only one earned run. Carl Fischer did well in the seventh and eighth, but grew careless in the ninth and was touched for three runs.

With Schoolboy Rowe scheduled to do some of the pitching, the Tigers meet the Atlanta Crackers on the Georgians' home grounds tomorrow.

SOX EVEN SERIES

El Paso, Tex., April 4 (AP)—Ed Durham, husky pitching rookie, gave the Pittsburgh Pirates only three hits today over the full route and the White Sox evened the spring series, 4 to 1.

Al Simmons led the White Sox attack with a home run and triple that drove in three runs.

DOUBLE STEAL WORKS

Atlanta, Ga., April 4 (AP)—The St. Louis Browns defeated the Atlanta Crackers this afternoon in an exhibition game which went ten innings. The Browns outhit the locals and apparently had the game on ice until Atlanta combined walks and clever base running to put over two runs and tie the score in the ninth. Ted Gullic and Jack Burns of the Browns worked a double steal in the third, Gullic scoring.

19 HITS, 16 RUNS

Knoxville, Tenn., April 4 (AP)—The Washington Senators today continued the savage hitting that has marked their last few exhibitions and swamped the Knoxville club of the Southern association, 16 to 4.

Scoreless for the first three innings, the club led by Young Joe Cronin piled up nine runs in the fourth, Fred Schulte, former St. Louis outfielder, climaxing the splurge by a homer with two men on.

TAKE LAST GAME

New Orleans, April 4 (AP)—New Orleans defeated Cleveland 2 to 1 today in the last of their spring exhibition series here. Wesley Ferrell started on the mound for the Indians and at the end of the fifth inning turned over a 1 to 0 lead to George Connally, who was unable to prevent the Pelicans from getting their two runs in a seventh-inning rally.

DODGERS CHECKED

Richmond, Va., April 4 (AP)—Ed Fallenstin, coming to the rescue of Leo Mangum in the ninth inning, pitched brilliant relief ball to check the Brooklyn Dodgers' rally and give the Boston Braves a 7 to 6 victory today.

The score:

	R	H	E
Boston ... 100 303 000	7	12	0
Brooklyn ... 100 110 012	6	15	0

Mangum, Fallenstin and Hogan; Heimach, Thurston, Quinn Schwenk and Outen.

SHUT OUT BARONS

Birmingham, Ala., April 4 (AP)—Roy Parmalee pitched one of his good games today as he blanked the Birmingham Barons with four hits to give the New York Giants a 7 to 0 decision over the Southern Association club.

YANKS 13; NASHVILLE 0

Nashville, Tenn., April 4 (AP)—Taking advantage of six errors and with Earl Combs and Dixie Walker pounding out home runs, the New York Yankees today defeated Nashville of the Southern Association, 13 to 0.

Rangers Defeat Maple Leafs, 5-1

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

New York, April 4 (AP)—The New York Rangers, young, fresh and speedy, made short work of the tired Toronto Maple Leafs tonight winning the first game of the final playoff series for the Stanley cup, 5 to 1.

A crowd of some 17,000 fans, seeing their only game of the finals, came to cheer and remained to sympathize with the Leafs. Worn from their five-game National League championship series with the Boston Bruins, which wound up only last night in an overtime game that lasted nearly three hours in actual playing time, the Leafs didn't have a chance. They were out-skated, out-shot and even outroughed when they tried to tire their rivals a bit.

Tall, black-haired young Cecil Dillon, who bids fair to set a new playoff scoring record, again was the spear-head of the Ranger attack.

Dillon scored two goals, his sixth and seventh of the playoffs, assisted in another and fairly ran the Leafs ragged with his back checking when penalties left his team short handed. Murdoch has one assist in addition to his goal.

The Rangers started scoring in the middle of the first period and kept adding to their total in every frame while Toronto could not dent the cords until Alex Levinsky, big defense player, banged a goal home on a desperate solo play less than five minutes before the game ended.

The leg-weary Leafs, who started tonight's game only 17 hours after they finished last night's struggle, will have ample opportunity to recuperate before the next game of the three-out-of-five series. They will not play again until Saturday when they come together at Toronto where all the remaining games will be played.

Australians Read Their Bibles

Sydney (AP)—The New South Wales branch of the British and Foreign Bible Society reports that last year it sold 29,486 Bibles, twice as many as in 1931. An official said the increase was due to the depression in that people's thoughts had been turned to the Old Testament.

ANDERSON WILL FIGHT THURSDAY

Gladstone Middleweight Meets Southpaw in Green Bay Ring

Joe Anderson of Gladstone, U. P. and northern Wisconsin amateur middleweight boxing champion, will fight Luke Ebel, Milwaukee boxer, at the Green Bay Columbus club Thursday evening, it was announced yesterday. Anderson will be accompanied to Green Bay by his manager Arthur Sundling of Escanaba and trainer, Red Kegel of of Gladstone.

The battle with Ebel is expected to be a real test for Anderson as Ebel is a flashy southpaw. Anderson has never had any experience with fighters who throw the leather from the portside and his manager figures this battle will find Anderson with his hands full. The southpaws usually give plenty of trouble, especially to fighters who are not used to their style.

Anderson has done most of his training the past two weeks with the purpose of developing a defense for an attack for the left handed Ebel.

The last fight that Anderson was in resulted in a loss of a close decision to Jim Cummings of Chicago who later won a place on the Chicago Golden Gloves team. Cummings lost to a New York fighter in the inter city series which Chicago won, 10 victories to six.

MOVIES ADOPT NEW PROGRAM

Reduction in Salaries, Other Economies Approved

New York (AP)—A five-point readjustment program for the motion picture industry was approved at the annual meeting of the motion picture producers and distributors of America, Inc.

The program was recommended by Will H. Hays in his 11th annual report as president. Hays and the other officers were re-elected.

The five points of the readjustment were announced by the organization as follows:

"1. For the readjustment of much of the industry's theater structure in order that decentralization of ownership and management might result in greater economy, more efficient operation and greater flexibility of entertainment program.

"2. For large reduction in distribution costs, which may be effected by cooperative action through the integration of present distribution facilities.

"3. For economies in the production of motion picture entertainment made possible by reduced cost of business administration and an increased flow of trained talent to the studios, which would bring the standard of salaries paid to the artistic personnel within the means of the industry to support.

"4. For the adjustment of the patent structure of the industry.

"5. For assuring the stability of motion picture entertainment as a major art by the enlargement of and greater emphasis upon the industry's program of self-regulation, in order that the screen may reflect the highest possible social standards."

Hollywood Gossip

Sign of the return to normalcy in Hollywood: home break-up rumors have superseded studio closing reports.

Apparently Sally Eilers and Hoot Gibson can't make up their minds. Three times they have admitted separating, and the last time Sally said a divorce was imminent.

But Sally and Hoot are still going around together. Saw them at a preview of one of Sally's pictures and Hoot takes her to all the parties. When the pair separates, Hoot's young daughter by a former marriage always stays with Sally.

Just as Hollywood has been hearing for a year, the young Fairbankses came to a parting of the ways. And it was only a few weeks ago, after she and Doug came back from an European vacation, that Joan emphatically called the rumor "gossip."

"Come at once," said a cablegram from Hollywood to Lilian Harvey in Berlin 10 weeks ago. She did.

Lilian was here eight weeks before a camera turned on her. She spent the time posing for pictures, getting a cold and getting over it, trying on new gowns.

She gave a farewell party for Maurice Chevalier the night before he left for Paris and other French points.

A suit filed by a man and his wife, living in a suburb near here, is unique in movie history. They allege they were frightened into a state of nervous collapse and hysteria one midnight when they mistook the filming of a gangster scene for realism. They ask damages of $101,101. The scene was a running gun fight.

George Arliss, who has both the actor's and the Englishman's reverence for Shakespeare, found himself saying uncomplimentary things about the playwright during the filming of "Voltaire."

Voltaire, noted for his sardonic wit, made many slighting remarks about the Englishman who preceded him to fame by a hundred years. Many of these lines were lifted for picture purposes.

Arliss, it is said, keeps his fingers mentally crossed while commenting sarcastically on the bard of Avon.

WHITE COLLAR CLASS

Toby Wing

Hollywood — Demure collars are giving Hollywood girls great individuality in their spring dresses.

Toby Wing wears a lovely shawl collar on a black crepe dress that is exquisitely tucked in scallops and then embroidered to boot. It stands up around her neck, a little bit like an old-fashioned ruff, and gives her face a flattering frame.

Elissa Landi, lunching at the Beverly Wiltshire hotel wore a black crepe de chine dress with a triple-decked white pique collar and matching cuffs. She also wore a knitted fez of fine white wool at least six inches high.

Claudette Colbert has several dark dresses with hand-embroidered white organdy collars. The prettiest one she has in an afternoon dress of black crepe with a watteau neck and a little guimpe of hand-flowered white organdy and little puff sleeves of the same organdy embroidery.

Bits of Cheer in Business

Chicago, April 4 (AP)—Two railroads today reported increases in freight loadings last week over the preceding seven days. The Santa Fe announced loadings totaled 20,453 cars against 20,292 in the previous week, and the Milwaukee railroad reported a gain of 900 cars.

Chicago, April 4 (AP)—The American Furniture Mart today announced a special midseason market here the first of May because of increased buying authorized by many large retail concerns.

Detroit, April 4 (AP)—Harry G. Moock, general sales manager of Plymouth Motor corporation today announced rapid upturn in retail sales will justify one of the largest production schedules in the concern's history.

Chicago, April 4 (AP)—The oil and Gas Journal published figures today showing a substantial increase in oil production in the Texas fields was responsible for the 315,601 barrel average daily increase for the country for the week ending April 1 as compared with the previous week.

South Bend, Ind., April 4 (AP)—Paul G. Hoffman, president of the Studebaker Sales Corporation of America, said today retail deliveries of Studebaker and Rockne automobiles during the ten days ending March 31 exceeded all previous similar periods since

Mrs. Mary Ripley Is Appointed As Sault Postmaster

Washington, April 4 (AP)—The appointment of Mrs. Mary Ripley as acting postmaster at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., was announced yesterday.

When Mrs. Ripley will take over the office of postmaster, succeeding William E. Davidson, acting postmaster, was not definitely known here. Mrs. Ripley at noon yesterday had not been officially notified.

The daughter of the last James McKenna, postmaster in the Wilson administration, Mrs. Ripley was born in Sault Ste. Marie, July 28, 1890. She was educated in St. Mary's schools and Loretta Academy. Before her marriage to Chester W. Ripley, she taught school. In addition to being a successful mother of five children, Mrs. Ripley has been active in politics, club work and Legion affairs, holding the office of department president and national committeewoman.

She is a member of the Bowating club, Loretto Alumnae, Catholic Woman's Reading club, Woman's Reading club and the Hospital Auxiliary. For the past eight years she has been society editor of the Sault Ste. Marie Evening News. Her place as society editor will be taken by Miss Helen Osborn.

Smelt Runs Now At Peak Stage

The smelt runs at various Delta county streams have reached high stage, with some fishermen getting as many as 1,000 pounds for a night's work. The runs are expected to subside in a couple days, however.

The Hansen & Jensen fish market has been taking in from 3,500 to 4,000 pounds of smelt daily during the past week. Only the small sizes, commanding a price of one and a half cents a pound, are being caught now. The large jumbo smelt have been selling for three cents a pound.

Every evening, large groups of dipnet fishermen have congregated at the mouths of the Ford, Escanaba, Whitefish, Ogontz, and also at Squaw creek.

BRIEFLY TOLD

Reckless Driver — Clarence Curran, 507 South Ninth street, was given a suspended 30-day sentence by Justice of Peace H. E. Ranguette yesterday on a reckless driving charge. He was arrested after he had turned around at an intersection in Ludington street.

Two Sentenced — Lawrence Derocher, 300 Ludington street, and Angus McDonald, North Sixteenth street, both charged with operating disorderly places, were given hearings before Justice of Peace Ranguette yesterday and were found guilty. Derocher was sentenced to serve 30 days in the county jail, while McDonald was given a fine of $50 and costs, and in default, 40 days in jail.

A recent survey of 3200 families shows that there is little difference in the affection of girls or boys for either the father or mother.

June, 1932. He said during the ten day period a total of 1,758 cars were delivered to new retail purchasers.

WANTED SATISFACTION

Houston, Tex.—M. L. Mowrey desired more satisfaction than just seeing the man who held him up sentenced to prison. Mowrey was called upon to identify Robert Stewart as one of five men who held him up and robbed him of $25 cash and some guns. After he had identified Stewart, Mowrey settled his score by blacking Stewart's eye. Because of his act he was arrested for assault.

Huge Sky Ride at World's Fair To Provide View of Four States

By F. A. RESCH

Chicago (AP)—A gigantic aerial ferry, spectacular of design and futuristic of conception, is under construction along Chicago's lakefront.

It is the "Sky Ride" of the 1933 world's fair—a $1,200,000 structure whose towers will be the highest west of New York—and whose engineers say presage a new era of bridge building.

For "A Century of Progress" it will serve as a sight-seeing vehicle with four states visible from its 628-foot towers, but its builders declare it represents an engineering feat destined to be a model for bridges of the future.

To Support Ten Rocket Cars

When completed, cables strung across the 1,850 feet between its two towers will support ten rocket cars to shuttle back and forth under double "tracks" with world's fair visitors—from Chicago's mainland to Northerly Island in Lake Michigan, where the second tower stands.

Far above the 200-foot level, at which the rocket cars will travel, will be platforms atop each tower—where 1,800 sight-seers, lifted by elevators rising at the rate of 700 feet a minute, can be accommodated. Flooring in these "penthouses" will be of solid glass.

Built by five engineering concerns and designed by suspension bridge experts, the "Sky Ride" will be the second longest span in the United States. The George Washington bridge, across the Hudson, is the longest. They believe such an aerial ferry could be built with a span as long as 18,500 feet—more than three miles.

May Replace Bridges

In the future, say "Sky Ride" engineers, similar structures will replace standard bridges of today—using a guarded platform to transport light traffic by cable, and rocket cars for heavier traffic.

Into the "Sky Rides" towers are going 7,200,000 pounds of steel, and more than 100 miles of cable—from one-half inch in diameter to more than 1.9 inches—will be used in its construction.

All this structure's cables, its engineers declare, will be four times as strong as necessary to carry their loads—36 persons seated in double-deck fashion in each rocket car.
